

1 DELEGATE KEY: Mrs. Eney, the flowers which I
2 have just placed in your arms are more than just a bouquet
3 of roses. They are the love that is stored in the hearts
4 of all of us, the love that has grown through the months
5 as we looked at your smiling face in the midst of all the
6 heat. It was so cool to our furrowed brows.

7 You are truly the First Lady of this Convention.

8 (The delegates arose and applauded.)

9 MRS. H. VERNON ENEY: As the Committee on Style
10 could never, never improve on the language of flowers, I
11 move that I accept these with the greatest of heartfelt
12 thanks. (Applause)

13 DELEGATE CLARKE: Would Delegate Beachley and
14 Delegate Ulrich please escort President Eney to the rostrum?

15 (President Eney was escorted to the rostrum by 16 Delegate Beachley and Delegate Ulrich.)

17 DELEGATE CLARKE: Would Delegate Bryson and
18 Delegate J. Frank Raley please escort the Sergeant at Arms
19 to the rostrum, please?

20 Come forward, please.

21 (The Honorable Mary B. Bryson, Delegate from
